

USER POLICY, RESPONSIBILITY STATEMENT, & CODE OF ETHICS

For Wisconsin ServicePoint – Homelessness Management Information System

USER POLICY

Agencies shall share information for provision of services to homeless persons through a networked infrastructure that establishes electronic communication amongst each other.

Agencies shall at all times have rights to the data pertaining to their clients that was created or entered by them in the ServicePoint system. Agencies shall be bound by all restrictions imposed by clients pertaining to the use of personal data that they do not release

It is a Client's decision about which information, if any, entered into the ServicePoint system shall be shared and with which Partner Agencies.

Minimum data entry on each consenting Client will be:

- Completing the ClientPoint section
- Entering a record of service and identifying the fund source for each service provided
- The HUD 40118 worksheet for clients receiving services through HUD Continuum of Care grants or State of Wisconsin Transitional Housing Program grants.

Data necessary for the development of aggregate reports of homeless services, including services needed, services provided, referrals and Client goals and outcomes should be entered to the greatest extent possible.

The ServicePoint system is a tool to assist agencies in focusing services and locating alternative resources to help homeless persons. Therefore, agency staff should use the Client information in the ServicePoint system to target services to the Client's needs.
